Memo CP-D/424

Date: 31 March 2005
To: Distribution
From: O. Schwerer
Subject: Proposed lab code 2GRCINP
Reference: Memo CP-N/29

In CP-N/29 the institute code

2GRCINP Institute of the Nuclear Physics, NCSR "Demokritos", Aghia, Greece

is proposed. Presently, we have in dictionary 3

2GRCATH NRC Demokritos, Athens

The web site of the Inst. of Nucl. Physics "Demokritos" says:

"The National Center for Scientific Research "Demokritos" is situated on the foot on Mount Hymittus at the outskirts of Aghia Paraskevi, a suburb of Athens, and is about 12km to the north from downtown Athens."

From this information I take it that this is the same place and institute as 2GRCATH which apparently has changed its name. Therefore I propose, instead of introducing a new code, to change the expansion of 2GRCATH to

National Center for Scientific Research "Demokritos", Aghia Paraskevi, Athens

(Note that "Aghia" is not suitable as a place name, it only means "Saint...")
